

STAND OUT

AMONG YOUR PEERS

As the only student-run, peer-reviewed journal for undergraduates, UReCA, the NCHC Journal of Undergraduate Research and Creative Activity, showcases multidisciplinary works produced by students from across the nation.

We are currently looking for submissions in the fields of physical and social sciences, humanities, creative writing, and visual and performing arts.

Have an interdisciplinary idea? We would love to see it! In our most recent edition, we published an annotated music playlist describing the life of Che Guevara due to its high-quality, original nature.

Works submitted may have been produced for classes or outside the classroom environment. Undergraduate students who are currently enrolled in a college or university are eligible to submit. Works must be a maximum of 15 pages double-spaced.
